OTTAWA (CP)—A new issue of $550,000 in government bonds and treasury bills, offering interest yields of around 6½ per cent, was announced today by Finance Minister Fleming. It will be used to pay off an equal amount of bonds maturing Oct. 1.

Of the total, $325,000,000 will be offered to the public to cover an approximately equal amount of the maturing bonds held by the public. Investors will have a choice among three types of bond issues and an issue of 253-day treasury bills maturing next June 10.

Teener Missing

VERNON (Staff)—The RCMP request any information regarding the whereabouts of Lynn Warner, 15, who has been missing from her Vernon home.

The girl is described as five feet, four inches tall, blonde hair, blue eyes, irregular front teeth.

She was traced to the outskirts of Vernon as late as September 8, and it is believed she may be in Vancouver or Chilliwack, or that she is working in an orchard in the Okanagan area.

Boys' Club Obtains Lease On Premises

Kelowna Boys' Club has obtained a lease on premises at 346 Lawrence Ave. Directors hope to have the new rooms ready for use before the end of the month.

The property will be adapted to provide four rooms for instruction in arts and crafts, a large games room, a small games room for seniors, and a reading area. Cloakroom facilities and an office will also be provided.

With the opening deadline so near club directors are busy with renovations—re-covering floors, re-wiring electrical facilities, painting and decorating.

A campaign is planned for donations of games and books. More than 20 persons have volunteered as instructors in activities such as weight-lifting, tumbling, leathercraft, coppercraft, art, chess, photography and model building.

For a nominal fee of one dollar, membership is open to boys from eight to eighteen in Kelowna and district. Anyone interested in assisting the club in any way should write Kelowna Boys Club, Box 75.

Traffic Fatalities Again Hike Weekend Deaths

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A heavy toll of traffic deaths raised Canada's weekend accident fatalities to 42 during the weekend.

More than half of Canada's 30 dead lost their lives in Ontario, where 16 died on the highways. Two head-on collisions each claimed three lives. There were also eight drownings, one death by fire and three miscellaneous fatalities.

The count includes deaths in traffic, boating and swimming activities and other deaths directly connected with weekend activities from 6 p.m. local times Friday to midnight Sunday.

Two drownings and the deaths of two persons from auto fires swelled the Ontario total to 20, far ahead of the other provinces. Quebec had 10 deaths, eight by traffic, one drowning and a man hit by a train. New Brunswick counted seven, four in traffic and three by drowning, and British Columbia reported five, with two in traffic, two drownings and a fire fatality.

No accidental deaths were reported in Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta.

There's probably a lot of unmarketable fruit in Okanagan orchards.

And majority of growers don't like to see it go to waste.

But if any primary producers have surplus fruit which they do not want to see rot, the Boys Town of B.C. will welcome donations.

Boys' Town camp is located near Mile 14 on the Hope-Princeton Highway, and Cliff Moore, president of the group, suggests that donations of fruit and vegetables may be dropped off by motorists who may be passing the camp.

Mr. Moore also added that with the approach of game and open hunting seasons, Boys' Town would be happy to receive any wild fowl, deer, moose or bear meat.

"We can use any and all such donations for the real benefit of our boys," Mr. Moore remarked.

Incidentally, the camp has full facilities for keeping such items in cold storage.

CHARRED AND TWISTED RUINS GIVE MUTE EVIDENCE OF FIRE DISASTER

Pioneer Packers Plan New Building After Fire Disaster

RUTLAND (Staff and Special)—As they surveyed the charred ruins of their burnt out plant this morning, directors of Pioneer Meat Packers at Rutland were making plans for rebuilding.

They hope to be operating again within two months. In a $12,000 blaze Saturday night the year-old plant was completely gutted. Value of the building was estimated at $100,000. It contained $12,000 of stock which was a total loss. It is understood that 60 per cent of the loss is covered by insurance.

Believed to have started in the office portion of the structure, flames spread quickly through the building constructed of cement blocks with a wooden roof.

Rutland volunteer firefighters received the first call at 9:50 p.m. Nearby resident Jacob Dreiling first saw the outbreak at 9:30 p.m. and went to a neighbour's house to raise the alarm.

He told the Daily Courier that although he dialled the emergency number continually it was about 15 minutes before he obtained any response.

When the alarm did get through the firemen rushed in a pumper and a truck, the tanker truck following.

But by the time the latter arrived motorists had parked their cars on the approach road and the tanker sank into soft ground in an effort to bypass them.

Police issued 15 summons to motorists who blocked roads.

RAPS MOTORISTS

Rutland Fire Chief Norton would be critical of the way motorists blocked the roads leading to the fire.

"I think we could have saved the building if we had been able to get our tanker truck in," he said.

Mr. Would had to leave his own car 100 yards from the gates due to the road being plugged by cars.

There was no immediately available water supply for fire fighting and water had to be brought by tanker from a hydrant about one half mile away.

Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade was unable to render assistance as the blaze was outside the city limits.

HIGH MAGNITUDE EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS NEW ZEALAND AREA

PASADENA, California (AP)—A large earthquake believed centered near the Kermadec Islands northeast of New Zealand was recorded today.

Its force was reckoned as considerably higher than the Yellowstone shocks that shook the north-western United States and parts of Western Canada last month.

Dr. Charles Richter of the California Institute of Technology rated its magnitude at 8 or higher on a scale that lists the largest shocks ever recorded as 8.6. The Yellowstone shock was 7.1.

Registration of delegates begins Tuesday at 4 p.m.

City Man Named To Board Of Highway 97 Association

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP)—The Okanogan-Cariboo Trail Association, booster for one of North America's longest highways, closed its 27th annual convention here Saturday on resolutions to push the route—better known as Highway 97—south to the border of Guatemala.

The long, long trail stretches now from Weed, Calif., to Nome, Alaska, crossing Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Yukon Territory and Alaska.

The new program is designed to appeal to the tourist. If he can be impressed with the magic number "97" the day is won for those communities lying along the way, speakers said.

Elected president for 1959-60 was James W. Wallace of Wenatchee, Wash.

Two vice presidents from Canada are H. S. Harrison-Smith of Kelowna, B.C. and Max Smith, Kamloops, B.C. From south of the border, vice presidents named were John Killian, Ellensburg, and George Nesbitt of Goldendale. These men, with retiring president Al Loughee of Pentleton, B.C., form the executive committee for the next year.

Chief project for the year will be promotion of a motorcade of 1,000 automobiles to trek from Bend, Ore., to Dawson Creek, B.C.—a distance of more than 1,250 miles.

The motorcade is to start with 400 cars assembled from many states, with others joining along the route. The long drive is to start Sept. 5, 1960.

The 1960 convention will start Sept. 9 in Dawson Creek. The motorcade is expected to reach the convention city in the afternoon of opening day.

The 1959 convention closed Saturday night with a banquet.

KELOWNA VEEP — H. S. Harrison-Smith, of Kelowna, has been named vice-president of the Okanogan-Cariboo Trail Association, along with Max Smith, of Kamloops.

Moon Shot Hailed 'Round World As Target Struck'

BULLETIN

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Soviet scientists today declared there would be no territorial claims on the moon arising from the landing of their cosmic rocket on the moon's surface Sunday night.

VIENNA (AP)—Radio Budapest today said scientists of the Hungarian Observatory in Budapest spotted a dust cloud raised on the moon when the Soviet rocket landed.

The broadcast added that a black ring was visible for more than an hour after radio signals stopped on impact. Hungarian scientists expressed belief this was a new crater cut by the rocket into the loose surface of sand and rock on the moon.

LONDON (AP)—Much of the world today hailed the Soviet Union's announcement of a moon hit as a great scientific achievement—but much of the West suspected the rocket's real target was political Washington and not the moon.

"The moon is probably quite unperturbed by the impact of this projectile from outer space, but not so the earth," says The Yorkshire Post in suggesting that the real purpose was to make an impression in Washington in advance of Premier Khrushchev's arrival Tuesday.

"This is a classic piece of Khrushchev showmanship," the London Daily Mail says. "From the start he stressed he is not going to America with any feelings of weakness or inferiority. This is a national scientific achievement will help him keep them at bay."

The Liverpool Post says the flight should be regarded as an achievement of mankind first and of the Russians only after that. "It's a world's eye," says a Daily Mail headline. "Bang on Lunik," exclaims The Daily Express.

But Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said "I don't think many people are terribly interested in it." (He commented just before flying to New York for the United Nations General Assembly meeting.)

In Paris, Le Parisien agrees that the experiment was specially timed for Khrushchev's departure.

On both sides of the Iron Curtain as a major scientific achievement, said the Russian rocket probably was "twice as powerful as the Atlas rocket now being tested in the United States."

Heinz Garmann of the West German Society for Space Research said the experts were not surprised.

"New surprises will be gained only by a manned rocket," he declared.

In New Delhi, the Times of India hails the Soviet moon shot as "the most sensational feat achieved by man." Other newspapers in the Indian capital took a more restrained view.

Communist couriers throughout Asia saluted the rocket as proof of the superiority of the Communist system.

At a Communist rally in Peking, speakers were cheering even before the rocket's landing. They called it a "pathfinder to the moon for mankind" which signified the "powerful strength of the peace camp."

It was Jodrell Bank that flashed out first word that the Russians had been successful in their moon shot.

American scientists congratulated Russia on her feat and expressed hope that information gleaned from the rocket would be shared with the world.

But some American militiamen had reservations. Vice-President Richard M. Nixon said official proof was still lacking that the Russians really hit the moon.

Nixon, said the Russians had failed three times in the last two weeks to land a rocket on the moon. Saturday's was the fourth try, he said without disclosing the source of his information.

Pravda, official Communist party newspaper, said "the second Soviet space rocket has reaffirmed the leading role of the U.S.S.R. in the highly important spheres of science and technology, in fathoming the mysteries of the universe."

News of the flight was hailed as a triumph for the Soviet Union.

Shortly before midnight Moscow Radio announced a "great triumph" and "now three minutes" and finally down to seconds.

Just before midnight, the announcer said: "Wait for a special announcement. Listen to Moscow. Listen to Red Square."

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (CP)—Creek, said he hoped for a dust-free route when a 1,000-car caravan moves over it next year.

Weather has held up the paving program, he said. Sixty miles of highway between Williams Lake and Prince George would have been finished this year if the weather had been favorable.

That section, along with work on the Hart, will be completed next year, Mr. Gaglardi said.

DELEGATE FOR B.C., ALBERTA

North Okanagan MLA Leaves For Commonwealth Conference

VERNON (Staff) — Hugh Shantz, MLA for the North Okanagan, left Sunday on a tour that will take him halfway around the world.

Shantz is delegate for the B.C. and Alberta governments at the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association Conference in Australia.

The five-week session opens September 24, and Shantz will first visit the Far East.

He left by plane from Vancouver for Tokyo, Hong Kong, and Singapore.

The delegation of parliamentarians will move across Australia, stopping at Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria and Tasmania, and will arrive in Canberra at the end of October. They will inspect leading agricultural and power developments.

Included in the party from Canada will be similar representatives, one for each province, plus five men from the federal government. Federally, MP Harold Winch will represent this province.

November 7 Shantz will start for home to prepare for the next session of the legislature.

The Australian Government will pay the expenses of all visitors.

The conference is held every two years in one of the Commonwealth countries. In 1957, it was held in India and Pakistan. Shantz told The Daily Courier he has had to decline an invitation from the Israeli ambassador to tour Palestine on his way back along with federal government members.

Enderby Board of Trade already has booked Shantz as speaker for its first December meeting.

CCF LEADER Bob Strachan's plans to visit Vernon have been cancelled. (See story opposite.)

ROCKET

At the stroke of midnight the chimes tolled from the Kremlin and the radio began blaring forth the Soviet national anthem.

Minutes after the deadline, as listeners stood poised for the expected flash, the radio began broadcasting concert music.

Finally, at 12:35 a.m., the music ceased and the historic announcement was made 33 minutes after the rocket's reported landing.

The announcement — although delayed — carried full dramatic impact.

First came a tone signal — the first bars of The Internationale — played on chimes — that usually precedes an important announcement.

"Attention, Moscow speaking," proclaimed the announcer, then: "Tass-bulletin. Today, the 14th of September, at 00:02:24 Moscow time (two minutes and 24 seconds after midnight) the second Soviet cosmic rocket reached the surface of the moon."

"It was the first time in history that a cosmic flight has been made from the earth to another body."

"The reaching of the moon by the Soviet rocket was an outstanding achievement of science. A new page has been opened into research into cosmic space."

In the streets of the capital, thousands of Muscovites stared intently at the bright three-quarter moon, hopeful of a glimpse of the landing even though scientists had expressed doubt that it would be visible.

Anyway, toward midnight, an overcast drifted across the moon, obscuring it from view.

There was a public sign of rejoicing over the announcement. Red Square was virtually deserted.

Calling their shots in advance, the Soviet authorities had said during the evening that the rocket would come down about a quarter of the way from the center of the moon's disk to its outer edge at a point near the Sea of Tranquility, the Sea of Serenity and the Sea of Vapors.

There was a public sign of rejoicing over the announcement. Red Square was virtually deserted.

The resolution follows a decision by city council to approach the Lieutenant-Governor's office to arrange a plebiscite. Listed are licenses for cocktail lounges, and sanction to serve beer and wine with meals in restaurants.

Strachan Won't Speak In Vernon

VERNON (Staff) — Robert Strachan will not speak in Vernon tonight.

A CCF party spokesman told The Daily Courier that the provincial leader had offered to stop over in the city, but delayed communications had precluded his visit.

The local group received notification of Strachan's offer "only a few days ago", the spokesman said. "It was impossible to arrange a meeting in time."

He speculated that the offer had probably "rested in someone's pocket" for about a week. This means that the CCF leader will bypass the city.

TEEN TOWNERS BUSY — Members of Kelowna Teen Town worked hard Saturday to raise money for the March of Dimes campaign and other community services. Car washing was a prominent feature. Here 16 year-old Linda Thompson, a prominent Teen Town member, cleans up one of the 70 vehicles washed.

Teen Town Car Washers Cleaned Up 70 Vehicles

Members of Kelowna Teen Town who staged a car wash and bazaar Saturday, washed some 70 cars in the course of their day's labors.

So successful were the day's activities on Victory Motors' lot that the group is considering making them an annual event. A profit of approximately $150.00 is anticipated.

Victory motors clipped in $100, the car wash brought in $60.00, rummage sale $50.00, home cooking and candy $30.00, games $15.00, and the canteen $35.00. The open air dance which wound up the program proved most successful. For this event the Lions Club provided considerable assistance.

Teen Town is now busy planning for future activities. These include the weekly dances which will be starting soon. It is hoped to organize club nights again this year.

The Okanagan Mainline conference is to be held on the weekend of Oct. 31 with Princeton Teen Town as hosts. Kelowna hopes to charter a bus to take members to the meet.

Funeral Rites Conducted For Mrs. B. C. Walker

Funeral service for Mrs. Breta Christina Walker, 86, of 324 Bernard Ave. was held from Day's Chapel of Remembrance Friday.

Wife of Mr. William Walker, she died in hospital on Sept. 9. She was born in Sweden and came to the U.S. in 1875 at the age of 16.

She returned to Sweden at the age of 18 to marry Charles Forslund in 1877. Later, with her husband and three children she returned to Canada to farm in Alberta. Mr. Forslund worked later in the Alberta mines and in 1927 moved to Vancouver where he died in 1932.

Mrs. Forslund lived in Mission City for a time before coming to Kelowna in 1944. She married again two years later.

She is survived by her husband, a son, George Forslund, Lake Cowichan, V. I.; two daughters, Mrs. R. W. Fogel, White Rock and Mrs. Thyrn Capnerhurst, Silverdale; 15 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Rev. D. M. Perley conducted the interment in Kelowna Cemetery.

Scouting Changes In Making

Important changes are in the making in the B. C. Boy Scout organization. Decentralization is under way and a meeting of Scout officials and committeemen from the entire Okanagan and mainline area is to be held in Vernon Sept. 27 to organize a "zone" organization with headquarters somewhere in the area.

The new setup will take part of the load from provincial headquarters in Vancouver, give quicker service, and more supervision and assistance to local areas.

This will be the second such zone to be set up. One already functions in the Kootenays.

The Central Okanagan District Council is meeting in the B. C. G. Mutual board room Wednesday Sept. 16 to discuss ideas and arrange representation at the zone meeting.

It is expected that a zone commissioner will be appointed. He will give full-time to Scouting, help organize new troops, and set up training camps for leaders.

Rotary Plans More Attractions For Home Show And Fall Fair

More attractions for adults and children are being planned as the Rotary Club makes ready for its annual home show and fall fair.

The city's only exhibition classified as an agricultural fair will be held in Memorial Arena Sept. 24-26.

Acknowledging that children like to have fun the Rotarians have arranged for a pony ride on the city's free parking lot, just outside the arena, and for a coin-operated simulated rocket space ship ride inside the arena.

Highlights for adults include a band concert in the arena each evening and a fashion show for men and women on the opening evening, Thursday.

Bingo enthusiasts will have all they want, with bingo games going on continually all three nights.

All adults attending will be given a ticket to participate in a free bingo game. There will also be a door prize each evening and a grand raffle for a large television set.

Merchants are co-operating with a large display of home furnishings and appliances as part of the show.

Saturday will feature the main fall fair section, with classes for vegetables, fruit and flowers.

Fruit and vegetables will be judged according to the standards of perfection set by the B.C. department of agriculture.

In charge of the horticultural exhibits is Rotarian Ben Hoy.

Chairman for the whole show is Tom Tomiye, immediate past-president of the Rotary Club.

Other chairmen of sub-committees are: Ian Greenwood, door and admissions; Bill Aynsley, raffle; Bill Conn, construction of Jerry, as the seventh in a long family line of inept Navy men, has simply never been as screaming funny as he is in this one.

With a story premise that is patently ridiculous, he takes it from there and goes on to achieve spectacular heights of laugh-provoking lunacy. The story, in brief, has to do with the disappearance of a destroyer escort called the U.S.S. Kornblatt, missing since World War II. The disappearance comes to light when the Navy is refused an additional appropriation by hostile Congressmen until the carelessly "lost" destroyer is accounted for. Since Jerry (who else?) was the last man to sign out for the Kornblatt, he's responsible for producing it.

Also co-starred with Jerry in a role that's a natural for him is the popular "Don't Go Near the Water" comic—Mickey Shaughnessy as a wrestler. Hilarious performances are also contributed by Robert Middleton, and Gale Gordon of "Our Miss Brooks" television fame.

Some growers in the district are spot picking but generally picking of Mues will get underway this week.

Bartlett and Flemish Beauty pears are pretty well cleaned up.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson, who is the chamber's charter president, Lady-of-the-Lake Kathy Hillier, and Jaycee candidate for this year's Lady-of-the-Lake, Loralee Turgoose.

Jaycees, a number of past presidents, and delegates from Kamloops and Penticton witnessed the installation. Representing the State of Washington were nine Junior Chamber members from across the border.

Retiring president Art Hughes, Games in outlining the organization's many activities during his term of office, stated that "the introduction of professional wrestling matches to the city by the Jaycees, proved to be the best fund-raising project to date."

He expressed disappointment, however, with the poor turnout of fans at the Junior Chamber sponsored banquet of champions, and intimated that this method of honoring outstanding local athletes might be discontinued. Satisfaction was realized from more than a dozen undertakings during the preceding season.

with the Regatta Parade being singled out as being particularly praiseworthy.

On receiving his past-president's pin, and thus becoming an "Exhausted Rooster," Mr. Hughes-Games was capped with a brilliant red coxcomb, which he was instructed to wear for the rest of the evening.

Charter past-president Mayor Parkinson in congratulating the hard-working JC members on their past achievements, encouraged the "rebel spirit" prevalent in today's youth.

Considered one of a rebellious group himself, he was one of a group of young men who organized the then Junior Board of Trade in 1936—he had always taken "a keen personal interest in the Jaycee movement in Kelowna and in the Okanagan Valley."

An evening of dancing followed the well-attended banquet.

FRUITFUL FACTS

By BETH CAMERON

Fresh peaches and pears get the nod in the parade of fruits this week, followed closely by plum plums. These are rapidly ripening to a peak crop and are now in the stores in full supply.

Autumn is here, and while some of us may not like this early heralding of winter, the youngsters are back to school and we have more time to get on with the "food band", that precious shelf of preserves and jams that can be drawn upon until the next fruit harvest comes along. There are so many ways of using both pears and peaches—in special desserts, favorite jams and marmalades, and for that favorite of all methods of serving—out of hand. Fruit and cheese cracker trays, lunch boxes, between meal snacks and fresh fruit for dessert are favorite fresh-eating methods.

When it comes to straight canning, you'll find a recipe insert in each case of fruit, plus ideas for desserts and preserves. As an extra bonus, try this recipe for Heavenly Jam combining peaches, pears and apples.

HEAVENLY JAM

4 oranges
2 lemons
1 dozen pears
1 dozen peaches
1 dozen apples
Sugar as needed.

Put oranges and lemons through chopper. Place over low heat to boil gently while preparing other fruits. Peel peaches, pears and apples, put through chopper. Add to fruit mixture. Measure and add 1 cup sugar for each cup fruit. Cook to jam stage, about 40 minutes. Seal in sterilized jars.

This colorful conserve is one to reserve for special occasions. Note the unusual addition of seedless grapes.

HARLEQUIN CONSERVE

12 peaches, chopped
1 cup cubed pineapple
1 lb. seedless grapes, halved
5 red or plum plums, chopped
1 orange, sliced
Sugar as needed.

Measure combined fruits and add 3/4 cup sugar for each cup of fruit. Cook rapidly until starting to thicken, about 35 to 40 minutes. If desired, add a few shredded blanched almonds last few minutes of cooking. Seal in sterilized jars.

Pear Amber is just as delicious as it sounds. The recipe makes about 4 pints of deluxe jam.

PEAR AMBER

12 pears
2 oranges
20 oz. can crushed pineapple
Few maraschino cherries.
Dice pears, put oranges through food chopper. Combine with pineapple and its juice. Measure and add 3/4 cup sugar for each cup fruit. Boil rapidly to jam stage, about 45 minutes. Add sliced cherries last few minutes of cooking. Seal in sterilized jars. Makes about 4 pints.

When you see a good buy in pears, use some of the case to make this luscious mincemeat.

SUMMER MINCEMEAT

8 lbs. of pears
1 orange
1 lemon
1 apple
1 cup grape or other fruit juice
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. allspice
1 lb. seedless raisins
1 lb. currants

Valuable Professional Advice On Fall Housecleaning Methods

By ELEANOR ROSS

Firms that specialize in cleaning and maintaining big commercial buildings have some very definite ideas on house cleaning. Although theirs is a vastly different and much more involved operation, the premise is basically the same—to make clean and keep clean.

DIM VIEW

Many executives of these concerns take a rather dim view of the average homemaker's methods. In fact, one firm had to "un-teach" the house cleaning methods of many of its women employees and instruct them in the scientific methods of efficient cleaning.

Although a household and an office present varied cleaning problems, basically, the job is the same. The workers learn the proper methods of dusting—not just stirring up the dust and depositing it elsewhere, but really getting rid of it.

One of the best pieces of equipment for this, say the experts, is damp cloth to really trap and hold the grime. A dry cloth merely pushes dirt from one spot to another.

TIME-SAVING BASIS

Commercial cleaning jobs have been worked out on a time-saving, but not work-skipping, basis.

For one thing, ash trays and wastebaskets are emptied and cleaned at the same time the dusting is done.

Two dust cloths are used for these chores. A silicone-impregnated cloth is a "must." Instead of using the usual circular movements, the dusting is done with a firm back-and-forth motion.

The damp cloth gets its work-out when it cleans the ash trays and wastebaskets. After the table surfaces and such have been well dusted, the floor is tackled. A vacuum is used on the rugs, and a mop on wood or composition flooring. The mop is covered with an impregnated cloth for proper results.

MOST TRAFFIC

The floor areas to be cleaned daily are those that are likely to bear the most traffic. These areas include the centre of the room, the area from the doorway into the room and those in front of chairs and sofas.

Floors in the kitchen and bathroom should be treated to a special daily cleaning. Use a string or sponge mop and a soap disinfectant solution.

Other rooms should have the walls, from eye level to ceiling, cleaned once a month. Areas that are difficult to reach should get a weekly cleaning.

WESTBANK — Emblematic of her groom-elect's naval vocation, here the symbols marking the box in which numerous cloth gifts were presented to Miss Patsy Hopkins, whose marriage to PO Lawrence Douglas Kirkaldy, RCN, is set for Saturday of this week.

Life-preservers centred each of the four sides of the container, while loops of gold cord and the letters "HMCS Aldergrove", also in gold, completed the naval theme.

Arranging the no-hostess occasion were Mrs. A. C. Shelter, Mrs. Andy Duncan and Miss JoAnn Duncan, and it was JoAnn who carried out the theme.

Surprising the guest of honor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, about 40 friends gathered to extend their good wishes, while many more, unable to be present, sent gifts.

Assisting the bride-elect in opening her presents, was bridesmaid-elect Miss Sharon Hebert, after which a group of teen-age girls assisted in serving refreshments.

Miss Hopkins is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Kirkaldy, of Terrace.

EXCHANGE TEACHERS

Since 1946 the annual exchange of teachers between Canadian and British schools has averaged 50 each way.

BRITISH TEACHERS

Teacher training colleges in Britain had 28,000 students, of whom, three quarters, were women, in the 1958-59 term.

in public she looked a bit more sprightly.

Mrs. Khrushchev remains reserved. Though she now appears regularly with her husband at Moscow functions, she never enters with him. She shows up in the area reserved for the top circle, meeting foreign diplomats with simple charm, chatting graciously with their wives, and most of the time confining her conversation to affairs of household, children and grandchildren.

A teacher of social sciences by profession, Mrs. Khrushchev apparently is a good student. Her English, for example, is getting better all the time.

Little is known of her early life. No Westerner can say where she met her husband, or whether, indeed, she is the mother of the youngest of Khrushchev's five children. This is a girl of 21, and it is believed Khrushchev married Nina Petrovna about 1938. She reared the family.

RELAXED PERSON

North Americans who have visited Mrs. Khrushchev—people like Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt—found her relaxed, easy to talk with, extremely interested in and surprising well informed on the United States.

They found, too, that Mrs. Khrushchev is not one to hold her tongue when her husband invades the household.

She does not seem to care much about his violent politics or how he runs his turbulent Communist world—but she speaks up sharply and even argues with the boss when she seems to feel the occasion warrants it. And he is apt to bow to her advice.

She'll Represent Women Of World

By CAROLYN WILLET
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Margaret MacLellan explains she doesn't know the answers to the complex problems wrapped around the legal and economic status of the world's women.

"But I think I know which questions should be considered," says the attractive, dark-haired woman who is chairman of the status of women committee for the International Federation of University Women.

The appointment was a surprise. Librarian and self-styled "jack of all trades" in the justice department's combines investigation branch, Miss MacLellan was not among the 47 Canadians who attended the international meeting at Helsinki, Finland, last month.

But she had let her name stand for nomination as chairman of the international committee, with little thought she would be elected.

World Project
The news flooded me," she said in an interview. "This is a bigger field than I've ever worked in."

First Canadian to head the committee, Miss MacLellan consoles herself with knowing some of the questions and having some idea where to turn for the answers. She is chairman of the Canadian Federation of University Women's status of women committee—a job she has held for four years.

The international committee's work is closely linked with work of the United Nations commission on the status of women and other agencies of the UN.

With her five committee members in five other countries, Miss MacLellan expects the job to entail "mostly paper work" from Ottawa. However, she probably will attend international meetings in Vienna and possibly Colombo, Ceylon, during her three-year term.

Right now, she says she doesn't know whether the correspondence will start rolling in "or whether I'll have to go after it."

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sidebotham were entertained one evening at a showing of Mr. Smith's many colored slides, taken in every country he visited during his trip.

Mr. Harry deCoursy deLautour, an old time resident of Peachland, now living in Seattle, was a visitor this week at the Totem Inn while renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. W. R. Smith accompanied by her daughter, Mina Jean, spent a few days in Seattle recently. Miss Smith has returned to Bentley, Alta. after a two week holiday with her parents.

Registration for pottery classes will be on Thursday, October 8, at the Elementary School. Mrs. Frank Sidebotham is again to instruct this interesting art.

AQUATIC RIPPLES

Hello Folks
With a touch of Autumn in the air, it is with regret we see the Aquatic season coming to a close. It has been a very successful season.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Aquatic is hard at work on preparations for a fall preview of fashions to be presented at the Aqua ballroom on Sept. 16 at 8 p. m.

Something different is being presented this year. Busy housewives of Kelowna are going to show their own talents in this field, accessorized with lovely up to the minute stylings in fur also to be introduced are the Megli all wool imported ski tights with just a few added fashions. With skiing such an important sport to the valley these should be of real interest.

The auxiliary is also busy arranging a rummage sale to be held in the centennial room of the Arena on October 3. Anyone wishing to dispose of rummage is asked to please call Mrs. R. L. Orsi, Phone PO 2-2118, and it will be picked up before that date.

We can well be proud of our youngsters' showings in competition. Much credit must be given to Jane Wood and Mrs. Black for their harmony and co-ordination in working with these youngsters. Mrs. Wood in connection with the Aquatic, and Mrs. Black with the children in the parks.

The float depicting recreation which everyone viewed in the Regatta parade reflects the concentrated effort Mrs. Black has put into her task.

Hats off to you both, in fact to everyone connected with summer activities. It takes teamwork to bring such an eventful season to a close with the verdict, of a job well done.

A good winter to you all.

Luxurious living is suggested in this modern bungalow designed by architect M. G. Dixon, of Ottawa. From the long, low line of the pleasing exterior to the roomy, two-bathroom interior layout, the plan is one that will provide a home-owner with the utmost in comfort and convenience.

A fireplace with tile hearth highlights the full length combination living-dining room. The well-lighted family room with built-in storage shelves is ideally located and serves to separate living and sleeping areas. Well arranged with ample cupboard and shelf space, the kitchen has direct access to both the dining and family rooms. There is a full basement which may be partitioned off to provide a playroom or workshop.

Total floor area is 1,315 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 32 feet by 27 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 278, may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

By ROGER C. WHITMAN

DAR LINES

QUESTION: We removed wallpaper from bedroom ceiling in a 2-story frame house we recently bought. The plaster has several dark brown lines in it. Does this require repair? We want to paint the ceiling.

ANSWER: The lines are probably showing the outlines of wood lath. Such surfaces can be satisfactorily painted, requiring no repair. May need more than one coat for complete hiding, especially if light color.

LACQUERING VARNISHED

QUESTION: I have a varnished oak table. Is there any way to lacquer this without removing the varnish first?

ANSWER: Lacquer in any form cannot be used over paint or varnish because it will have a solvent effect on the old finish, spoiling the appearance. However you can get a flat enamel or paint probably that will give you the effect you want. If the present finish is in good condition, wash off all traces of wax and polish with turpentine and "000" steel wool. Rub the surface hard enough to remove the gloss of the varnish. If after removing the wax and polish there is a substantial amount of gloss remaining, rub the surface with "000" sandpaper and wipe off the dust. Then apply desired finish coating.

WATER PIPE FREEZES
QUESTION: Our cold water pipe goes through an unheated crawl space. During very severe weather in the winter this sometimes freezes. Is there any way to prevent this happening?

ANSWER: Several manufacturers of electric equipment make what is known as a heating cable, when wrapped around exposed pipe, gives off enough heat to prevent water from freezing. Can be controlled with a thermostat so you won't waste electricity when weather above freezing point.

REMOVING DECALS
QUESTION: The previous owners decorated the bathroom with decals. There are just too many for our taste. How can they be removed?

ANSWER: Some hardware and paint stores sell a specially treated blotter-like paper for removing decals. When soaked in water and placed over the decal, it loosens it for easy removal. If not available, take several sheets of tissue or blotting paper and saturate with water.

SHOULD THEY INSULATE?
QUESTION: Our heating costs have risen sharply since installing a gas furnace. Our 35-year-old house, wood frame, is neither insulated nor weatherstripped. I wanted to install insulation, but a friend said that as soon as he insulated his house, the paint started to peel off. What should we do?

ANSWER: Highly recommend insulating, preferably with the type which incorporates a vapor proof barrier such as aluminum foil. This will not only keep the house much warmer, and thus save heating costs, but will prevent damp house air from working outward and into the wood siding—and eventually causing the paint to peel. Installing storm sash and weatherstripping on the windows will contribute tremendously to fuel savings as well as comfort in cold weather.

ACOUSTICS A PROBLEM
QUESTION: Our garage hall used to be a church. The room is 60 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 15 feet high at the walls. It is difficult to hear a speaker the full length of the room. However, when seated at the sides of the hall, piano music is overpowering. The hall is not used enough to warrant heavy remodeling expense. Have you any suggestions?

ANSWER: I'd certainly ask an acoustical engineer to inspect the hall, with the hope that some simple corrections can make a big difference. Probably lowering the ceiling would help greatly, especially if acoustical tiles are used. Dealers in this type of ceiling materials will be able to arrange for a specialist to visit the building.

FURNITURE FINISH
QUESTION: My mahogany furniture and walnut tables are 15 years old and make my home look dull. Is there a simple way to changing them to a new light walnut finish?

ANSWER: A new blonde finish, in various wood grain colors, is now available at many paint dealers. It is put on over the old finish without scraping, sanding or bleaching. If unobtainable, the present finish will have to be removed down to the bare wood, using prepared varnish remover, following label directions carefully. Then apply a commercial wood bleach according to manufacturer's instructions. This is followed by a wood stain in the desired shade. Sand satin smooth, wipe off dust and apply finish coat of clear varnish or shellac, as desired.

POTASSIUM PERMANGANATE
QUESTION: I used potassium permanganate as a foot wash in the bathtub and it stained the tub. How can I remove this staining?

ANSWER: Apply hydrogen peroxide to the area, rinsing off with clear water after 10 minutes. With a dish mop, wash with a solution of oxalic acid in water, followed after 10 minutes by rinsing with clear water.

FOOD WEEVILS
QUESTION: For the last few months, dry cereals and flour, etc., have been developing food weevils. I've tried different sprays and cleaning and airing the closet in which food is stored, to no avail. Can you suggest a treatment?

ANSWER: The following treatment is suggested by the department of agriculture for getting rid of pantry pests: First destroy all infested products. Then clean shelves and walls thoroughly; spray all closet surfaces with five per cent DDT. All stages of these insects can be destroyed by heating dry foods in the oven for half an hour at 140 deg. F. All food should be stored in containers with tight-fitting covers. Be sure to remove all food stuff from the closet before spraying with DDT.

N.Y. Policeman Gets 20 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—A former New York policeman, Francis J. Rogers, 26, was sent to prison for 20 years to life for his part in the rape-slitting of a grandmother 60 years old.

Rogers bought himself immunity from the electric chair by agreeing to turn state's evidence against his long time pal, Thomas Murtha, a 22-year-old truck driver.

Murtha went to trial on a murder charge and faced the death penalty if convicted. He was found innocent, however, by an all-male jury.

Gov't To Study Fire Protection In B.C. Schools

VICTORIA (CP)—Education Minister Leslie Peterson has announced the formation of a five-member committee to coordinate suggestions and make recommendations on standards of fire protection for British Columbia schools.

On the committee will be representatives of the provincial fire marshal's office, the architectural institute of B.C., the building inspectors association and the department of education.

Mr. Peterson said the re-opening of schools this week has emphasized the need for continuing attention to fire safety measures.

Will Mayor Veiner Accept Challenge?

BATH, Ont. (CP)—Question of the week: Will Mayor Harry Veiner of Medicine Hat, Alta., accept Reeve Ron Green's challenge to ride a bath tub wheeled out as a chuck wagon in the Sept. 28 Bath tub derby?

Other mayors from the East will merely have 300-pound tubs with wheels on them for the downhill run. The derby is to mark the 100th anniversary of this village 15 miles west of Kings-ton.

Mayor Veiner is a "great competitor," says Reeve Green, because of his humiliations of various Western mayors in events such as Indian wrestling, pancake eating and plowing.

Hunters Preparing For Canada's First Buffalo Hunt Since 1893

By ROY LABERGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Thirty hardy and well-armed hunters are preparing for Canada's first sportsmen's buffalo hunt since 1893.

They will seek their targets from among a herd of 2,000 which has overflowed from Wood Buffalo Park, a 17,000-square-mile reserve straddling the Alberta-Saskatchewan border.

Some 16,000 buffalo, the world's largest known herd, roam the game sanctuary.

Federal authorities have decided to open the free herd on a trial basis to some 30 hunters who will be allowed a quota of one animal each.

This will be no hunt for penny pinchers. The hunters will have to fly to Fort Smith, N.W.T., 350 miles north of Edmonton.

STIFF LICENCE FEE
Canadian hunters who don't live in the Northwest Territories will pay a $50 licence fee—$100 if they are not citizens. And foreign hunters—all Americans this year—pay $200 for the privilege of potting one of the big shaggy animals that weigh up to 2,000 pounds.

They'll also pay outfitter C.B. Brewster of Banff, Alta., $500, plus $75 a day for every day over five days, for guides, equipment and accommodation in a hunting camp 100 miles north of Fort Smith.

The season opens Tuesday, Sept. 15, and closes Nov. 30. Hunters will have to be tough to last. They'll travel by horseback and live in tents in temperatures expected to drop to 30 degrees at night.

Except for organized kills held annually to keep the park herd from growing too large, this will be Canada's first buffalo hunt since a Canadian authorities banned hunters in 1893 to save the buffalo from extinction.

ALMOST WIPED OUT
Fast heads, the main food-and-clothing source of the Plains Indians, once roamed the Prairies in hundreds of thousands till white men's guns almost wiped them out in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

The resources department received requests from members of the big game fraternity in many parts of the world when word of this year's hunt was noised about. However, officials decided to limit the 1959 trial hunt to 30. More licences may be issued next year.

The hunters likely will fly out their trophies—big, hairy horned Buffalo heads with a tuff of hair under the chin—and leave the meat at the site. Government officials will give it to needy N.W.T. families.

Massey Retires Thursday But Won't Be Inactive

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, who retires Thursday as Canada's 18th governor-general, relishes the thought of being "silent" for a while.

After some 350 speeches during his 7½ years at Government House, a stay longer than that of any of his predecessors, he believes it's time to relax a bit.

But Mr. Massey is a master of the spoken word and it is certain that there will be some challenging demands on his talents for scholarly, thought-provoking and lively speeches.

This week a collection of 40-odd addresses he delivered during his term of office will be published in book form, Speaking of Canada, the fourth such collection. It will include a speech in verse delivered off the record a few years ago to the Parliamentary Press Gallery.

STILL BE ACTIVE
The "quiet" life he plans at his family home, Batterwood House, near Port Hope, Ont., does not mean passing into inactivity or obscurity. While his plans are fluid, he is known to have some tentative ideas about the future.

He may travel to England this autumn to see old friends he hasn't seen since he was there a couple of years ago. He also is thinking of writing a book of reminiscences and reflections; light stuff, not an autobiography of memoirs.

Mr. Massey considers himself fortunate that his many-sided career has brought him into personal touch with a great many events in Canada's recent history. During his 72 years, he has been a scholar, teacher, business man, diplomat, administrator, politician, cabinet minister, patron of the arts, educator and many other things.

HIS JOB: PEOPLE
Talking about his job as the Queen's representative in Canada, Mr. Massey once described it as "people." He didn't mean just the striped-pants brigade, official receptions and the like, but people in all walks.

Indeed, at his springtime garden parties for as many as 5,000 guests, he spent more time mingling with plumbers and stenographers than with diplomats and government officials.

He often entertained smaller groups, making sure that they represented a broad cross-section of interests and work.

When travelling about the country—more than 200,000 miles to more than 300 cities and towns—he liked to sit around with a few people and talk about Canada. He took special delight in talking with children.

it will never be altered and, should it be destroyed, that it be rebuilt unchanged. To soften the rather austere facade, he had gardeners plant climbing ivy along the front.

He opened the doors of Government House as wide as possible to the press, regarding reporters and photographers as collaborators in and interpreters of his work. He entertained them often and liked to swap stories. The Parliamentary Press Gallery made him an honorary life member. His last reception, today, was for newspaper men.

CANDLE WAX ON SLATE
QUESTION: My wood console table has one-foot squares of blue slate inserted at either end. A hurricane lamp rested on each square and candle wax dripped on the blue slate. How can I remove the unsightly dark spots caused by the wax? I scrub the squares of slate with abrasive cleaner which keeps ordinary dirt removed, but his not effect on grease spots.

ANSWER: Make a paste of powdered whiting or other absorbent powder and a liquid non-flammable spot remover. Cover each stained area with a layer of paste at least one-inch thick, placing a sheet of glass or metal or plastic on top to retard evaporation. As past discolors, or dries, replace with fresh, repeating treatment until no more of the grease is drawn up into the paste.

Mortality Rate High In Cases Of Obesity

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Is dieting really worth the effort? You bet it is. It's tough to remain on a diet, I'll concede that. In fact, up to 80 per cent of those who embark upon diet programs don't follow them through. Persons with emotional problems are much more likely to quit than are reasonably stable individuals.

SUCCESS DEPENDS ON YOU

The success of your own weight reduction program depends upon whether you have set a realistic goal for yourself and upon the importance you attach to food and eating.

In case you might be wavering in your determination to continue with a diet, let's, as the politicians say, look at the record.

The medical publication, "Patterns of Disease," reports that among persons between the ages of 45 and 50 as few as 10 pounds increases the chance of death by 8 per cent above the normal. Thirty extra pounds mean a 28 per cent increase in chance of death. And you more than double your chance of dying (a 56 per cent jump) if you are carrying around 50 excess pounds.

The greater the amount of overweight, the higher the mortality rate. It's that simple. Let's look at individual diseases.

The death rate from heart disease for obese men between 25 and 74 is 42 per cent above normal. The women fare even worse. For obese females in this same age bracket, the heart disease death rate is 75 per cent above normal.

Diabetes in another example. The death rate from this disease among obese men and women is nearly four times as high as for those of normal, or average weight.

MORE SUSCEPTIBLE

You are more likely to get varicose veins and to suffer from gallbladder and gallstone trouble if you are fat.

It will be more difficult for you to recover from acute infections such as pneumonia if you are overweight.

I could go on and on, but I think you get the point. Does it pay to diet off those extra pounds? It sure does. It pays off in the best way possible—a longer, healthier life.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. R. C. C.: What is sarcoidosis? Is it cancerous and what can be done for it?

Answer: Sarcoidosis is not generally considered to be cancerous. At one time it was thought to be related to tuberculosis but that is now doubted. Treatment depends on its location and extent. Your doctor is in the best position to advise you.

The bidding:

Opening lead—jack of clubs.

Some of the things that happen in championship play are hard to explain. Take this hand, which occurred in the world championship match played between the United States and France in 1956.

When the American pair, Stayman and Field, held the North-South cards, the bidding went as shown. Declarer (Field) took the A-K of clubs and led the queen of hearts. East won with the ace and returned a low spade. Field went up with the ace, led a heart, and ducked in dummy.

my. East took the ten and led another spade. Declarer played the king and was able to score nine tricks when, fortunately, the hearts broke 3-3 and the diamond finesse worked. In all, South made two spade tricks, two hearts, two diamonds, and three clubs.

At the other table, on identical bidding, the French North-South pair also reached three notrump. The opening lead was the same and South's first three plays were the same—A-K of clubs and queen of hearts.

But here the play varied. East (Dick Kahn, playing with Lee Hazen) refused to win the queen of hearts. Declarer was now dead. He had no way of ever reaching dummy to cash a second heart trick or the queen of clubs. Eventually, he went down two—200 points—though he could have held the set to one trick.

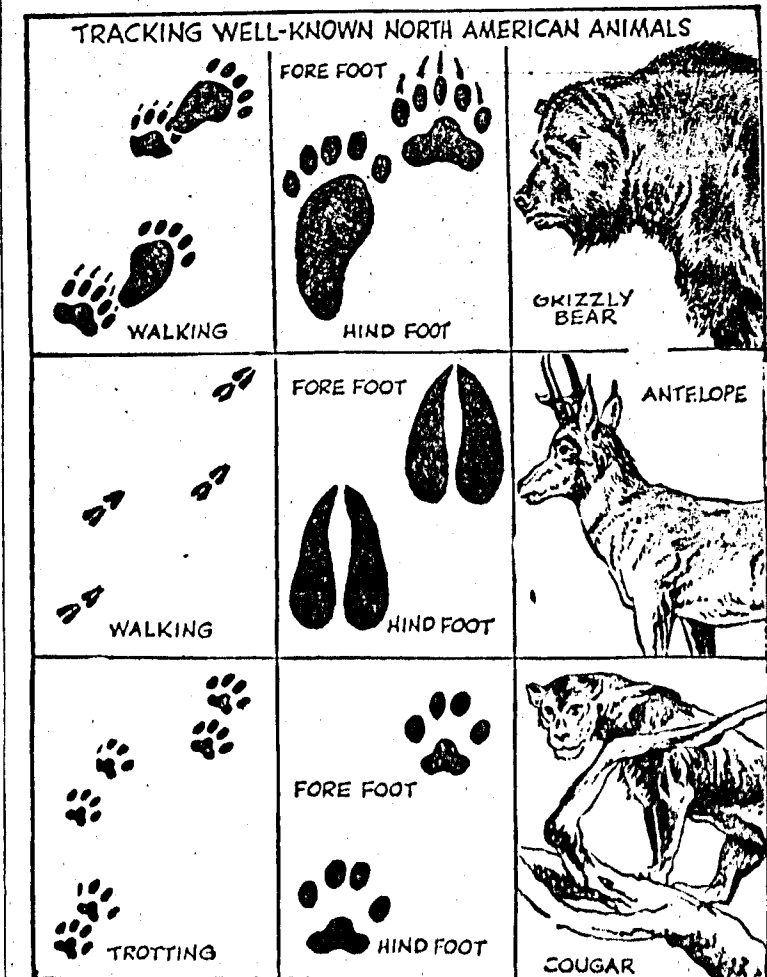

So, the American team gained 800 points on the deal, worth 7 international match-points.

It seems inexcusable that East, at the first table, should have taken the queen of hearts when it was offered. By playing the ten he would have maintained his A-J position over dummy's king. The advantage of ducking should have been obvious, since it was bound to make declarer's task more difficult.

But the mental lapse shows that even in the top levels of competition the players are human, and Field lost no time in exploiting the error to bring home nine tricks which didn't really exist.

FOR TOMORROW

Where job and household matters are concerned, it would be advisable to stick to routine matters now. Planetary aspects do not particularly favor new ventures. Be cautious, also, in dealing with strangers. Some misleading influences prevail.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates good prospects for the next year, even though you may feel a bit in the doldrums at present. Planetary aspects which will govern your life from early December until the end of June will be equally favorable to job matters, finances and personal relationships. So that, generally speaking, you are in good position to advance on all fronts. In fact, you may get a couple of advance "breaks" late this month and late in October.

While your occupational and monetary affairs will be, as stated before, under excellent stimuli after mid-December, it might be well to warn you, however, not to antagonize those in a position to help you during February. There is some indication that temperamental clashes then could cause trouble, so keep emotions under stern control. These in creative pursuits should benefit during the first six months of 1960, but all should profit by inspiration and new incentives. Both travel and romance will be favored between May and August; also in December of this year.

A child born on this day will be dependable, home-loving and highly intelligent.

DISTRICT SCOUT NEWS

By P. L. JIM GRAY

On the afternoon of July 16 all the overseas contingents of Scouts bilted in Manila and suburbs, gathered at the Scouts Philippine headquarters in Manila and were sent by bus to the jamboree camp on the slopes of Mt. Makiling.

The trip took about two and a half hours and gave us a chance to see the country, away from the big cities. A common sight along the road and in the fields were carabao, or water buffalo, being used to plow rice fields and doing all the farm work usually done in this country with a tractor.

As we approached the camp, the road climbed up into the hill country and entered Mt. Makiling National Park. The jamboree site was not a level plain, but sloping hillside, interspersed with ravines filled with tropical trees and vegetation.

We went to set up camp only to discover that the equipment for Troop 1 was still in Manila, so we spent the first night sleeping in the grandstand, which happened to be located near the Canadian area. The next day things became organized, our tents arrived.

The jamboree camp was divided into seven sub-camps, each named after a Philippine province. The Canadians were in Sub-Camp 2, called "Eastern Visayas" and with us were the camps of Hong Kong, Sweden, Denmark and several Philippine contingents.

10,500 IN CAMP

There were about 10,500 Scouts in the camp, plus some 2000 jamboree officials and volunteer workers. Over 8000 Philippine Scouts attended, with Nationalist China sending the biggest outside contingent, 548 strong.

There 529 Scouts from Japan, 240 from the U.S.A., and altogether about 2500 overseas Scouts from 49 countries.

In addition to the sub-camps there was a general headquarters a Jamboree trading post, a group of thatched bamboo huts where you could buy souvenirs, camera supplies, food and other things.

The hospital was set up in the College of Agriculture building, which with the bank and post office were permanent buildings. These were very busy places, as were the dozen or so "pop" stands situated about the camp.

Visitors were allowed into the camp and from 30,000 to 50,000 persons came in each week day, but on the two Sundays the totals were almost half a million! They came to meet and talk with the Scouts, collect autographs, pictures and see the camp.

Saturday, July 18 the 10th World Jamboree was declared open by President Garcia, of the Philippines, after a march past by all Scouts.

Each group carried a placard with its country name.

A small group of ex-Scouts from countries behind the "Iron Curtain", who had fled their homes and gone into exile, received the biggest ovation. They were from Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

Lord Rowallan, Chief Scout of the British Commonwealth, was also on the reviewing stand.

DAYS PASS QUICKLY

Days in the camp were busy, and the time passed quickly. We were up at 6:00 a.m. and prepared breakfast, each patrol doing its own cooking.

Flag raising was at 7:00 a.m. and at 8:00 a.m. we cleaned up camp and had free time until it was time to prepare lunch. At 1:00 p.m. we had a rest period and wrote letters home, and from 2:00 to 5:30 p.m. different countries put on displays in the arena.

After supper and flag lowering, there were arena shows again or campfires. Lights out came at 10:00 p.m. The shows were put on by Scouts or by school children from schools in Manila.

One special Sunday show consisted of a beautiful fireworks display, and the performance of a number of native dances. The "Jinking" was a bamboo dance in which the performers danced in and out between two horizontal bamboo poles which are banged together in time to the music by two other performers seated on the ground.

The dancers never missed a step, for to do so would bring painful cracks on the ankles, as some of us found out when we tried later to imitate the dancers.

The Canadian contingent's display consisted of a presentation of the Mounties' famous "musical ride". Our windbreakers had scarlet linings, and turned inside out, made good Mountie jackets with our Scout hats and a bamboo lance we went through the various movements, familiar to those who saw the real Mounties in Kelowna Park a couple of years ago. A Philippine military band provided the music, and we went through our routines at a jog trot, to imitate the action of the horses.

CHARGE WENT HAYWIRE

Everything went fine until the final charge in which two ranks run one at each other with leveled "lances". The ranks were supposed to pass left shoulder to left shoulder, but flash bulbs popped all over the place, the ride was staged at night, and they blinded the charging Scouts, resulting in quite a mess. Fortunately nobody was hurt. Anyway, we had a lot of fun.

The weather during our stay in the Philippines was never good, as it was the rainy season. It poured with rain at some time during almost every day, but when the sun came out it was extremely hot, with temperatures up to 110 on occasion.

One of the finest swimming pools I have ever seen was under construction at Mt. Makiling. It consisted of three large pools, each of different depths. They would have been a wonderful asset to the camp, but did not get finished in time for our use so there was no swimming at camp.

The closing ceremonies were held on Sunday, July 27 and the Scouts again held a march past parading in sub-camp groups this time, instead of national groups, with all Scouts mixed together.

Lord Rowallan was the speaker, and at the close the entire gathering gave a mighty cheer, and Scouts shook hands with their friends of different races and creeds.

While some contingents moved out right away, the Canadians remained until the following day. They packed up and moved to the Frank'n Baker plantation at San Pablo, a short distance away. Next time I will tell of our stay there, of the very happy and pleasant times spent in Manila, and our homeward journey.

Scientists Play Big Part in Food

One of the men who contributes most to making our food supply more abundant and more nutritious is the modern scientist.

As a result of his work in the laboratory, the output of our farms has been increased. During the past 20 years, for example, production of milk per cow has been increased 37 per cent. Hens are laying twice as many eggs and the yield of potatoes per acre has increased 156 per cent.

As a result of the scientist's efforts, many of our basic foods have been enriched and fortified. Thiamin, niacin, riboflavin and iron have been added to bread, for example, to make it more nutritious.

Other examples of fortified foods are the vitamin D added to milk; iodine to salt; and calcium, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin added to cereal products.

Research is constantly being carried on to determine the cheapest sources of protein, calcium and thiamin, all of which are essential to our diets.

FOOD PROCESSING

Science has touched on the processing of food, as the scientist studies the various methods of conserving food nutrients during the growing, storing and processing of various products. Thanks to science there are more convenience foods available—those that are frozen, canned and dehydrated, the baking mixes, plus the many others which cut down on kitchen time. Housewives welcome these products because in addition to saving time and money, they give her a chance to serve better balanced meals.

Also because of the uniformity of processing, she knows in advance that when a can or package of food is opened it will yield a certain number of servings and that its contents will be fresh and appetizing with no guesswork involved.

From a nutritional standpoint, modern processed foods are usually at least equal to, and often superior to foods bought in raw form. And many foods are additionally fortified with vitamins and minerals.

TEST FOR QUALITY

Most food manufacturers now maintain laboratories where their products are tested for quality and other factors such as color, consistency and flavor. In addition, much time is devoted to developing new and tempting products for our dinner tables.

Thanks to the work of the scientist our food supply is abundant; it is nutritious, thus it builds better human beings; the quality of food is such that the amount of illness is reduced and the prime of life is lengthened.
